ATTACK OF THE ZOMBIE BUNNIES

By Emanuel S.M.

PROLOUGE:

There isn't easter bunny

Friday

After Doggy

1

In trouble, he's nicer.

How I like it.

Today was technically the 2

Weekend, and at Saturday I'm gonna go out with Den.

Problem is, I can't go because tomorrow is easter 3

And Mary likes to do these lame shopping and things.

It's not our favorite, but we have to do it.

4

And I talk about Doggy and me.

Like I say, it is not our favorite, and never will be.

5

So it's 10:00, and that means two hours until that fateful day.

And, this is why I don't want to go:

6

WHY

I DON'T WANT TO GO

By cat the cat

7

1. There Is no easter bunny

8

THE END

9

And, Doggy agrees with me. That's more legal support that I will need for ten minutes holding back at the door.

10

CHAPTER ONE:

Baddies at the cat store

1:00, that fateful day. Location? C & D

11

It's easter.

‘Yay!’ for kids.

Not for cats and dogs.

12

It’s estimated that Cats are better than dogs.

That's what I think.

Now, popping into 13

The store, I was going to do a tantrum- But I saw some baddies...

It was my chance!

(to get a girlfriend.)

14

I walk, stylishly.

They looked at me.

Doggy pawed me.

‘Com’n dude.’

15

‘Why did you hold me back?’ I asked.

‘We’re leaving!’ He said.

16

‘Why?’ I asked.

‘You’ll see, for heavens’ sake!’

He had ruined it.

17

At least, we were going home.

‘But- All cats are getting sick!’ A random lady said.

Mary was just paying quickly, like if she was worried.

LATER

When we got in the car, she said,

19

‘But the bunnies are getting sick!

The cats and dogs!
What will I do about you two?!'

I nibbled her hand.

20

It was cold.

I knew something was wrong.

Very wrong.

21

CHAPTER TWO:

The zombie bunnies

The news were on.

Mary was worried.

22

Worried sick.

Like, literally.

‘see?’ he said.

His voice cracked.

23

‘Oh- No!’ Cried
Mary.

We ran over.

There were zombie bunnies pooping ev-

24 erywhere!

Mary ran.

There were also cats and dogs!

25

They were pooping, scratching, and nibbling our house.
Mary took us to the top, and opened a chest. There were jerky treats, carrots, and yarn Balls.

‘Throw some,’ She said.

I took one, resisted, and threw it.

27

So did Doggy.

A zombie dog ate it, and turned into a normal puppy.

But in seconds, he was zombie again.

28

I was wondering how We were going to throw so much yarn, but I got the answer.

A thick truck

29

Crashed. It had a shooting stand-two.

CHAPTER THREE:

The Truck

Ready and hot it was.

31

We hopped in, and crashed through the ceiling.

Mary pressed a button, and we landed in a bridge.

32

I, quickly, followed with Doggy to the ceiling of the car.

Mary took a laser-gun, packed it with carrots and the 33

Other props, and shot.

We did the same.
Zombies fell off,
and climbed.

34

‘They are getting near!’ Cried Mary.

It started to rain.

It poured.

35

Our fur got wet, soggy.

I shot.

Until they lay unconscious.

36

It was a happy end.

But a note fell from the sky.

Mary held it high.

37

Tomorrow is the real easter

She looked at us.

I kind of shrugged.

Doggy just stared.

38

I thought it was no problem.

But it was.

They went home.

39

After all, our job was done.

Or not?

40

CHAPTER FOUR:

The Bunny Boss

I woke up.

41

Doggy was shaking me.

‘B-Bu-Bunnies!!!!!!’
He yelled.

I ran to the window.

42

There, five bunnies carried a sort of what looked like a king.

‘Lead me!’ It boomed.

43

‘I smell em’!’

I looked around.

Mary wasn't here.

Just then, I saw

44

Two bunnies leave the house.

They held Mary.

I grew cold.

45

Why were they here?

It was astonishing.

In book 3, you'll know.

46

I took the laser gun.

It was in the kitchen, with a letter.

They are here for me.

Use the laser gun.
She also put some ammo with it.

It said,
DO NOT TOUCH WITH BARE FINGERS

48

I opened the window a bit.

Pointed.

My hand shook.

49

I pulled the laser gun's trigger.

50

CHAPTER FIVE:

A good ending

It hit his chest.

He sparkled to bits. It was like he 51

Shattered.

The bunnies ran.

And we saved
Mary.
